

Media Advisory

- Who: Ontario Reign, Hope Reigns Foundation
- What: The Hope Reigns Foundation will be auctioning the signed, game-used jersey of center Andrew Crescenzi. The jersey was worn by Crescenzi on opening night against the San Antonio Rampage. The jersey is one of several items that are part of the foundation's silent auction. Proceeds will benefit the foundation.
- Where: Ontario Reign vs. San Jose Barracuda at Citizen's Business Bank Arena
- When: Friday, November 24 at 5:30 p.m.
- How: Fans can place their bids for the jersey by texting 52182 or by visiting ontarioreign.com/auctions. The silent auction closes during the game after the second intermission. The jersey will be awarded to the highest bidder.
- Why: Andrew Crescenzi is a rising American Hockey League player who was called up by the Los Angeles Kings for two games earlier this month. The fan who wins the auction jersey will leave with memorabilia that will increase in value as Crescenzi continues to develop his professional career.

Staff from the Hope Reigns Foundation will be available near Section 112 for media questions.
